THE "DO GOOD" CAMPUS

The University of Maryland commits to becoming a global leader in advancing social innovation, philanthropy and nonprofit leadership with its Do Good Campus.

Our Do Good Campus effort amplifies the power of Terps as agents of social innovation and supports the university's mission of service. We're working to ensure all University of Maryland students graduate equipped and motivated to do good in their careers, their communities and the world.

We:

- Created the Do Good Institute to serve as the campus hub of social impact and innovation;
- Developed a Do Good Challenge and Do Good Accelerator to scale up the impact of student projects and ventures;
- Cultivate new research on philanthropy, civic engagement and nonprofits;
- Expand opportunities for students to learn about and practice giving back.

Our Do Good campus will lead to a Do Good world.

SPRING COMMENCEMENT / MAY 24, 2019

Congratulations on your graduation from the University of Maryland! This is a milestone that should bring great pride to you, your family and friends.

I am certain that your time at the University of Maryland has been filled with fearless ideas, friendships and opportunities. As president of this great university, I want to express my hope that you have explored new areas and discovered new talents. The world is waiting for you to share them.

As you move beyond the campus, I hope you will remember the intellectual curiosity and drive that inspired your time here. Graduating does not mean that learning has come to an end. It means that you are now equipped to take charge of your own learning. This is a privilege and a profound responsibility. Society's advancement will depend upon your knowledge and your leadership.

As you leave us, you should take with you the pride we all feel in your accomplishments as scholars, artists, athletes and leaders. You have enriched the university's life and have helped it to climb to a new level of distinction. We welcome you into the alumni family, a truly special group.

I hope that you stay connected to the University of Maryland and take full advantage of being an alum. Stay involved with us and help new generations of students develop their futures. You can do this by returning to campus often, starting with Maryland Day 2020, on April 25.

You have my very best wishes for all your future plans. Make your mark. But wherever your future path takes you, please remember that you will always be a TERP. I hope you will always stay in touch. Go Terps!

Sincerely,

Wallace D. Loh, President

On behalf of the University of Maryland Alumni Association, congratulations on your milestone achievement!

Today you become members of a distinguished group: University of Maryland alumni. Like you, we all exhibited discipline, commitment, determination and leadership in our academic studies as well as in our campus and community activities. After departing College Park and applying these qualities in other aspects of our lives, we saw doors open wide to opportunities once unimaginable. You, too, will carry these qualities, and we trust they will lead to great accomplishments and success.

But your journey is not over with Maryland; it is just beginning. You now play the important role of alumnus, a role that is critical to the success of this great institution. I encourage you to make a commitment to your alma mater by becoming a lifetime member of the Alumni Association. By becoming a Terp for life, you will leave your own legacy and make a contribution that will enhance the experiences of those who follow.

There's no better time to support your alma mater, which has launched its most ambitious fundraising campaign ever. Fearless Ideas: The Campaign for Maryland aims to raise $1.5 billion to elevate and expand our mission of service, enhance our academic distinction and bolster our leading-edge research enterprise.

The Alumni Association can help you stay in touch with friends you made on campus, prepare you for your career through networking opportunities and keep you informed about alumni and university news.

It is our hope that as an alumnus, you will display your degree proudly and continue the tradition of demonstrating to the world the high-quality education it represents. In turn, Maryland will continue to educate the country's brightest students, pursue cutting-edge research, encourage innovation and entrepreneurship, explore the arts and defend our athletics titles. Maryland will continue to be fearless in everything it does and will always make you proud to be a Terp!

Stay active, stay informed, stay connected. And stay fearless.

Sincerely,

Kirk D. Bell '88

Speaker Biographies

AMY IANDIORIO
STUDENT SPEAKER

Growing up as a voracious reader in New Jersey with a passion for anything related to the social sciences, Amy Iandiorio was looking for a college program that could bring together aspects of psychology, criminology and history.

She found what she was looking for at the University of Maryland.

"It exceeded my expectations," she says. "I've had great years of personal growth and professional growth."

Iandiorio is graduating from the Criminology and Criminal Justice Honors Program with minors in history and global terrorism. She hopes to build a career studying the latter area, and has already made great strides as an intern and research associate with the National Consortium for the Study of Terrorism and Responses to Terrorism (START). Based at UMD, START is a leader in analyzing the causes and consequences of terrorism, and Iandiorio will be continuing research into hate and bias crimes with the organization this summer.

"She's shown a lot of aptitude and dedication," says Patrick James, project manager and Iandiorio's supervisor at START. "What really sets her apart is her work ethic."

She takes special pride in her position as a resident assistant, first in Cumberland Hall, where she was named Resident Assistant of the Year for 2016–17, and then in South Campus Commons. Iandiorio received additional training as the outreach and development intern with the Maryland LEAD Program, where she assisted with the mission of creating socially responsible leadership through personal development courses.

"I took a lot of pride in giving someone the experience they wanted as a student, as well as getting what I wanted," she says.

A College Park Scholar and member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Iandiorio was also pledgemaster and leadership chair for Alpha Phi Omega and completed more than 150 hours of community service. She received an Adele's Circle of Women Scholarship in 2018 and an Irv & Micki Goldstein Scholarship in 2018.

"I just love school—the idea of the advancement of learning," she says. "I don't think I could have asked for a better time here."

JEROME QUENUM
UNIVERSITY MEDALIST

Growing up in Benin, West Africa, Jerome Quenum was accustomed to studying by lanterns or candlelight when the electricity would go out. But after he missed a final phone call from his dying father in 2004, due to network instability, he decided to dedicate his life to improving the electrical and telecommunication infrastructure that connects people.

He came to America in 2013, and earned an associate's degree in electrical engineering from Montgomery College, where he graduated top of his class before continuing his education at UMD. It wasn't easy, and he went through a lot of hardships while navigating the process to become a U.S. citizen.

Through it all, Quenum remembered a conversation he had with his father on a nighttime walk. "Life is made up of successes and failures," his father told him. "Just keep going and it will pay off."

"I think that is mainly what kept me going," Quenum says.

Those personal challenges make his academic successes all the more notable, says Kevin M. Daniels, an assistant professor in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, who described Quenum as "the top student here at College Park, and the best student that I have had the pleasure to teach."

"His ability to digest theories, apply them appropriately and come up with unique takes on application makes him not only an ideal student but leaves me to have no doubt that he will be a great researcher," Daniels says.

Quenum received numerous scholarships during his tenure at UMD, including the England Engineering Scholarship, the LGS Innovation Corporate Partner Scholarship and the Hughes Networks Corporate Partner Scholarship, along with the Kamin Foundation Veterans Scholarship from the Division of Student Affairs. He served as secretary of the Engineering Students Council and Eta Kappa Nu honor society, and project chair of the UMD chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

In the fall, he will enroll at the University of California, Berkeley to pursue a doctorate in electrical engineering. As a member of Army ROTC, Quenum will also be commissioned as a second lieutenant—a way to give back and honor the service of Peace Corps volunteers he would see in his home country.

"I couldn't believe what those amazing people left behind to help African countries," he says. "This is my way to give back."

ERIC WANG
UNIVERSITY MEDALIST

Although he came to UMD unsure of his career path, Eric Wang is well on his journey now as a passionate bioengineering researcher who will stop a movie or jump out of bed in the middle of the night when inspiration for solving a problem strikes.

Growing up in Montgomery County, Wang thought he would enter the healthcare field like his older sister, but she encouraged him to explore his own interests. One presented itself in 2016, when Wang joined the lab of Jeffery Klauda, associate chair and graduate program director in the Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering, and found himself while sorting through a mountain of scientific documents and coding work on cell membranes.

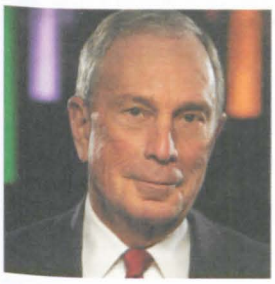
"I discovered I liked the research part of it," Wang says. "Not only did (professors) teach me about the field, I can come back to them for collaboration."

Since then, Wang has been the lead or co-lead author for seven published papers in outlets like The Journal of Physical Chemistry B and Chemical Reviews, and presented at national meetings of the American Chemical Society and Biophysical Society. Wang's undergraduate work was comparable to what would be produced by a graduate student, Klauda says, and he was "one of the best scientific writers I have had in my lab."

"Eric is a top-notch student and researcher. He is very hardworking and does not shy away from asking questions," he says. "I have been impressed with his computational ability to quickly learn our techniques and to know when to ask versus figuring it out on his own."

Already a 2018 winner of a prestigious Goldwater Scholarship, Wang received a 2019 Churchill Scholarship as well, which will fund his pursuit of a master of philosophy degree in chemistry at the University of Cambridge. He will then enroll in a medical engineering and medical physics doctoral program jointly run by Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A University Honors student in the Honors College, Wang has also received a National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship, a Howard Hughes Medical Institute Research Fellowship, the Fischell Outstanding Senior Award, the James W. Dally Endowed Scholarship and a National Merit Scholarship. In addition, he was a reviewer for The Journal of Physical Chemistry and The Journal of Molecular Modeling, a research mentor for high school students, a Bible study leader for Catholic Terps and a member of the Knights of Columbus.



MICHAEL R. BLOOMBERG
COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Michael R. Bloomberg is an entrepreneur and three-term mayor of New York City whose innovations in government and philanthropy have made him a global leader on climate change, public health, education and other critical issues facing America and the world.

Elected mayor just weeks after the attacks of September 11, 2001, Bloomberg led the city's strong recovery. His administration raised high school graduation rates by 40 percent, cut crime by a third, reduced the city's carbon footprint by 14 percent and increased life expectancy by three years. His economic policies, which supported entrepreneurs, small businesses and emerging industries such as tech and bioscience, helped create a record 400,000 new jobs.

After leaving City Hall, he resumed leadership of Bloomberg L.P., the information technology startup he launched in 1981 that revolutionized the investment industry and leveled the playing field for smaller firms. The company has grown from a one-room office into a global organization that employs nearly 20,000 people at 176 locations in 120 countries.

Bloomberg has been strongly committed to philanthropy throughout his career. His foundation, Bloomberg Philanthropies, employs a unique data-driven approach to its five main focus areas: public health, education, the environment, the arts and government innovation. He has given away $6.4 billion.

Bloomberg leads a number of efforts to address urgent national and international issues. He serves as the United Nations Secretary-General's Special Envoy for Climate Action, charged with galvanizing the efforts of governments, businesses and civil society to fight climate change. He is also the World Health Organization's Global Ambassador for Noncommunicable Diseases, and his foundation works on life-saving initiatives to reduce tobacco use, improve maternal health, increase global road safety and many more.

Bloomberg is co-author, with Carl Pope, of the New York Times bestseller Climate of Hope: How Cities, Businesses and Citizens Can Save the Planet. He graduated from Johns Hopkins University and Harvard Business School.

GOLDEN TERPS

The Maryland Alumni Association created the Emeritus Alumni Society, or Golden Terps, to recognize University of Maryland, College Park alumni who are 50 or more years beyond graduation. A new class is inducted every spring, and they are included in the commencement ceremony. The Class of 1969, proudly adorned with their Emeritus Alumni Society medallions, black-trimmed gold robes and gold mortarboards, will follow the student marshals in the processional.

Doctoral Degrees

The doctoral degree is the most advanced earned degree conferred by American institutions. There are two distinct types: the practitioner's degree and the research degree. The first type represents advanced training for the practice of various professions, principally doctor of audiology, doctor of medicine, juris doctor, doctor of pharmacy and doctor of veterinary medicine. These degrees do not involve the completion of original research by the student. The University of Maryland, at the professional school in Baltimore, awarded the first two dental degrees on March 9, 1841.

Master's Degrees

The master's degree is an academic honor bestowed upon students who have successfully completed work beyond the baccalaureate. A thesis and an oral examination are usually required. In 1920, the University of Maryland awarded its first Master of Arts and Master of Science degrees in fields other than agriculture.

Bachelor's Degrees

The bachelor's degree represents the completion of a four-year course of college-level study and is the oldest academic degree awarded by American institutions of higher learning. Maryland Agricultural College, which later became the University of Maryland, College Park, awarded its first Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in 1862.

Note: Latin Honors published in the commencement program are tentative and unofficial, pending the submission and calculation of all final grades for the semester of commencement.

Special Recognition

SENIOR MARSHALS

The Senior Marshal Program began in 1991 as an opportunity to acknowledge outstanding seniors at their commencement. The students selected to be marshals were nominated by faculty, administration and staff for their outstanding accomplishments and contributions to the University of Maryland. We are proud to recognize these truly remarkable students.

A heartfelt thanks go to the many volunteers who assist with the campus-wide and individual college and school ceremonies. These efforts are greatly appreciated.

The May 2019 class roster comprises degree candidates from the graduate and undergraduate programs at the University of Maryland, College Park. As final action cannot always be taken for candidates by the time this program is printed, the list of candidates here is tentative. The university reserves the right to withdraw or add names. Diplomas (for other than doctoral degrees) will be mailed by the Office of the Registrar.

Hail! Alma Mater

Hail to thee, Maryland!

Steadfast in loyalty,

For thee, we stand,

Love for the Black & Gold

Deep in our hearts we hold,

Singing thy praise forever,

Throughout the land.
